

Announcements:

Monday: No School

Friday: Book Orders Due: Catalogs in Back to school Packet or go to scholastic.com/reading club, sign in or register and enter our class activation code: GKCLD

Have you joined Home and School Club?

Another great week in E-24! Students are learning to be Graystone Great! With so many routines to learn the students are doing a wonderful job! Also, thank you for being Graystone Great by picking up students on time, following school rules and being a positive role model!

It was nice to see everyone on Tuesday night. It was a lot of information, but I'll be sending reminders as we go. If you have any questions on the packet, or did not receive one, please let me know.

Thank you for donating to Homes & School, school supplies and classroom projects. Everything helps.

I'm putting together the September calendar. It will have the volunteer schedule, birthdays and (most) school activities. If you're scheduled to volunteer and won't be able to be at school during the scheduled time, please let me know.

As I said, the students are doing a great job. Every week I am adding a few more routines, skills and responsibilities. This week, students have books from our library to use during our language arts period. Coloring is advancing to using five colors on each picture. We've begun saving for a popcorn party (each time the whole class is working together and doing all expectations, I add a sticker on our chart. Once filled, students will have popcorn and a short video).

Fine motor skills are a big part of kindergarten. This is why you're seeing a lot of coloring and cutting at this point. Although homework doesn't officially begin until October, there are things you can do in September: Find "My Book List" at the back of the Back to School packet and list books you read or your child reads. Please return the completed sheet to school. I will also be sending name printing pages. Please make copies and have your child write their name using upper and lower case letters.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Have a great weekend!