

San Jose Unified School District Student, Staff, Parent Responses May 2007

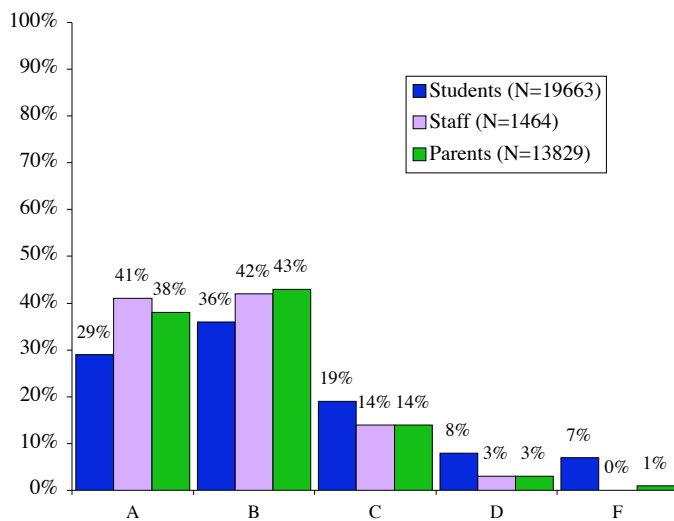

This school is making progress in improving the achievement of all students.

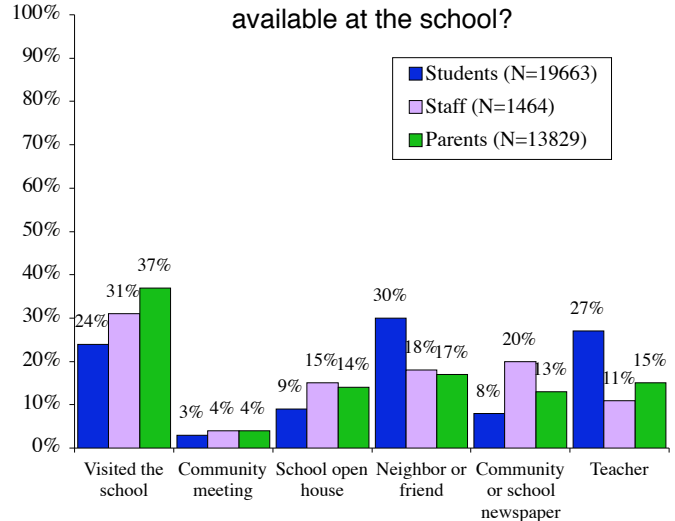

Allowing families to choose which school their child attends has positively affected SJUSD schools.

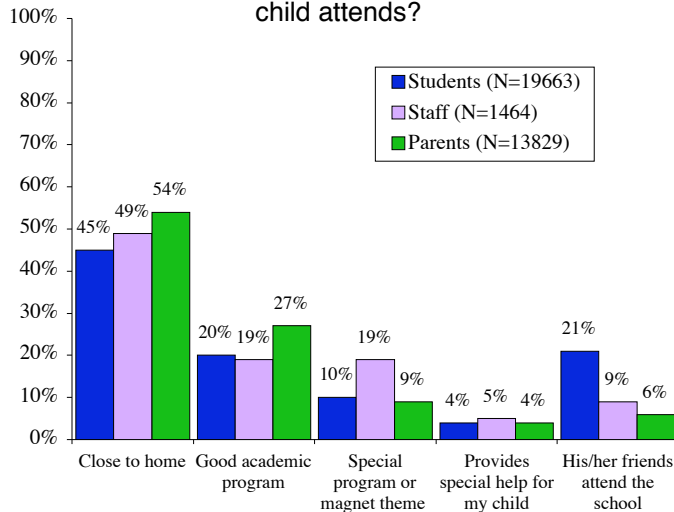

What grade would you give your school?

How do families learn about the programs available at the school?

How do families decide on the school their child attends?

Teachers talk to students and families about preparing to go to a college or university after high school.
